DAVID POILE PRESIDENT OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS/GENERAL MANAGER

The general manager with the longest active tenure, and the third-longest tenured GM in National Hockey League history, Nashville Predators President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile has spent 33 consecutive years at the helm of a franchise (18 with Nashville, 15 with Washington) dating back to Aug. 30, 1982 when he was hired by the Washington Capitals. He is the only general manager in NHL history to be at the helm of two different clubs for 1,000 games and 500 victories, and on Dec. 16, 2014 against Boston won his 1,171st game as an NHL GM to pass Harry Sinden and move into second place in wins by a GM. He enters 2015-16 ranked second all-time in both games (2,458) and wins (1,198) by a general manager, trailing only Glen Sather (2,700 games, 1,319 wins).

The lone person to be a finalist for the General Manager of the Year Award for each of its first three years of existence (2010, 2011 and 2012) and the sixth-place finisher in 2015, Poile is one of the most influential men in the sport, evidenced by his spot on the NHL's Competition Committee all 11 years of existence, appointment to the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee in 2014, and involvement with USA Hockey, highlighted by his service as General Manager of the United States Olympic Team for the 2014 Winter Games in Sochi.

While Poile continues to use effective drafting and development of home-grown players as the foundation for the Nashville Predators, his blueprint for success has necessitated the welcoming of high-octane offensive performers to the organization in recent seasons. Dating back to the 2013 Trade Deadline, Poile and his staff have been aggressive in acquiring young, talented prospects with high offensive ceilings, and proven NHL stars via trade and free agency to supplement Nashville's drafted talent. This formula helped the Predators return to the Stanley Cup Playoffs in 2014-15, reaching first place in the Western Conference in each of the season's five full months (November-March), and holding the NHL's top point percentage at the midpoint of the regular season, placing the organization's coaching staff in the 2015 All-Star Game.

Poile has been among the busiest GMs on the free-agent market the past three summers, signing eight forwards, two defensemen and a goalie to NHL contracts during the opening two weeks of free agency. After seeing great success with the low-risk, high-reward contract given to forward Mike Ribeiro in July 2014, Poile stuck with the trend on July 1, 2015, inking Cody Hodgson – just two seasons removed from a 20-goal, 44-point campaign – to a one-year deal, while also adding grit and experience in defenseman Barret Jackman.

In the trade department, Poile's two biggest deals came on the draft floor of the 2014 Entry Draft when he acquired former 40-goal scorer and 2012 NHL First-Team All-Star James Neal from the Pittsburgh Penguins, and on April 3, 2013, when he traded for emerging superstar Filip Forsberg – the team leader in points in 2014-15 – from Washington. Forsberg, selected 11th overall in the 2012 Entry Draft, was rated the third-best player by Poile's staff, but slipped due to a run of defensemen being drafted.

Despite the recent influx of players from the outside, the Predators are built around home-grown products starting in net with three-time Vezina Trophy finalist Pekka Rinne, and on the blue line with Captain Shea Weber – who has been a finalist for the Norris Trophy three of the past four years – and partner Roman Josi – who finished fifth in Norris Trophy voting while recording the second-most points by a defenseman in franchise history (15g-40a-55pts) in 2014-15. Rounding out one of the deepest blue line corps in the League are Seth Jones, the fourth overall selection in the 2013 Entry Draft and a blossoming star, a pair of 2009 draftees in Ryan Ellis (first round) and Mattias Ekholm (fourth round), as well as Jackman and Victor Bartley, who had never played an NHL game prior to signing with Nashville.

Helping anchor the forward corps are back-to-back 20-goal scorer and former 50-point producer Craig Smith (fourth round in 2009), Colin Wilson (first round in 2008), who posted a career-high 20 goals and 42 points in 2014-15, as well as Gabriel Bourque (fifth round in 2009). Of the 34 players used by Nashville in 2014-15, 21 were either drafted by the club, or made their NHL debuts with the Preds.

The assertive team-building plan implemented by Poile from the franchise's inception has helped the organization earn the reputation as one of the most stable, well-built teams in the NHL. Crucial to the plan's success is the ability to make the right selections and develop the young prospects. Poile has assembled a bright staff of personnel charged with those responsibilities, including Assistant General Manager Paul Fenton, Chief Amateur Scout Jeff Kealty, Director of Hockey Operations Brian Poile, and a team of gifted professional and amateur scouts across North America and Europe.

Poile has long been a proponent of a strong developmental system as a means to develop blossoming young players into productive NHL players. The Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the American Hockey League's Milwaukee Admirals, captured the first Calder Cup Championship in franchise history in 2004 and revisited the Calder Cup Final in 2006. They have advanced to the Calder Cup Playoffs in 12 of the last 13 seasons, winning four division titles in that span. The Admirals also became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons from 2002-03 to 2010-11, each season with a team predominately made up of Predators prospects.

Poile's wisdom and experience is clearly valued throughout the hockey world, as evidenced by his selection to the post of General Manager of the U.S. Olympic Team for the 2014 Sochi Games. He was associate general manager for the 2010 United States Olympic Team, and helped select the team that would become one of the headline stories of the 2010 Games, capturing the hearts of a nation en route to a silver medal. Poile was a member of the U.S. National Team Advisory Group for the third consecutive International Ice Hockey Federation World Championships in 2014, and also served as associate GM for the American entries into the 2009 and 2010 editions of the tournament, and as general manager at the 1998 and 1999 Worlds.

Since its establishment in 2005, Poile has helped guide the NHL Competition Committee, making him one of just two individuals to sit on the committee all 11 seasons of its existence. The steering body that formulates and recommends rule changes for approval by the NHL Board of Governors, the Competition Committee continues to be one of the most influential bodies in the game today having helped usher in innovations featuring on-ice innovations such as the regular-season shootout, hybrid icing and the grandfathering of visors. In March 2014, Poile received yet another prestigious honor by being appointed to the Hockey Hall of Fame Selection Committee, and helped mold the Hall of Fame's 61st group of inductees in June 2014 which included players Rob Blake, Peter Forsberg, Dominik Hasek and Mike Modano; coach Pat Burns in the Builders Category; and Bill McCreary in the Referee and Linesman Category.

MANAGEMENT

Poile's third straight General Manager of the Year nomination in 2011-12 came after the team finished with a 48-26-8 record (104 points), the third-best record in the Western Conference, fifth-best in the NHL, and good for home-ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Playoffs. In 2010-11, he was a finalist for the award after Nashville earned the fifth seed in the Western Conference (99 points) and gave up the third-fewest goals in the League (190) despite missing nearly 350 man-games due to injury, and in 2009-10, he constructed a team that was one of 11 to hit the 100-point mark despite having a payroll ranked 28th in the League, earning a spot as a finalist for the inaugural General Manager of the Year Award.

In 2006-07, Poile was recognized by The Sporting News as its "Executive of the Year," an honor he had received twice previously (1982-83 and 1983-84), which is determined through a vote of his peers, after the Predators finished the season with the second-most points in the Western Conference and tied for the third-most points in the entire League. The Predators established franchise records in points (110), wins (51), road wins (23) and goals (272) during the campaign. Locally, Business TN magazine honored him as the magazine's "CEO of the Year" for 2006 based on his consistent and successful track record as the team's architect.

In 2001, Poile was a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award in recognition of contributions to hockey in the United States. Poile has devoted his professional career to hockey and the NHL, particularly in non-traditional markets. His late father, Bud Poile, also a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award (1989) and a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame (1990), served as general manager of two expansion franchises – first in Philadelphia (1967) and then in Vancouver (1970). David Poile began his professional career as an administrative assistant with the Atlanta Flames expansion franchise in 1972 and spent 10 years with the organization before being named general manager of the Washington Capitals in 1982. The 2015-16 campaign will mark his 43rd in NHL.

For the 1982-83 season, Poile took the reins of a Washington team that had never made the Stanley Cup Playoffs. In his 15 years there, the Capitals advanced to the postseason 14 times. The 1997-98 Capitals, largely comprised of players Poile acquired, advanced to the Stanley Cup Final. During his 15-year tenure, the Caps compiled a record of 594-454-132 (.559), ranking among the NHL's top-five teams during that span.

Poile was instrumental in the League's adoption of the instant replay rule in 1991. He was awarded Inside Hockey's Man of the Year award for his leadership on the issue.

A graduate of Northeastern University in Boston, Poile was hockey team captain, leading scorer and most valuable player for two years, earning a place in the University's Hall of Fame. In June 2014, he received an honorary doctorate degree from American Sentinel University.

Poile also serves as an alternate governor for the team and in December 2007, he added President of Hockey Operations to his title. For the past four seasons, Poile has donated to Operation Homefront (which provides emergency assistance and morale programs to our U.S. troops), USA Hockey and the Peterson for Parkinson's Foundation for every Predators victory.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Nashville. The Poiles have two children – daughter Lauren and son Brian – and two granddaughters – Ellie and Charlotte.

MANAGEMENT

JEFF COGEN CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Jeff Cogen brings more than 30 years of experience in the sports and entertainment industry to the Nashville Predators as the team's Chief Executive Officer, a role he was named to in August 2010. As the CEO of the Predators, Bridgestone Arena and Ford Ice Center, Cogen is responsible for running the business operations of both the club, the arena and the new ice rink in Southeast Davidson County.

During his tenure as CEO, Cogen has guided the organization to its most successful sales seasons to date with ticket revenue increasing while maintaining one of the lowest average ticket prices in the NHL. Attendance in the 2014-15 season grew from previous years' record performance with 30 sold-out regular-season home games (ended the season with 12 consecutive sellout crowds), sold out all three postseason contests and averaged nearly 16,900 fans per game - more than 98 percent capacity.

Cogen was also instrumental in the development of Ford Ice Center in Antioch, Tenn., which opened in August 2014. The facility is part of an ongoing public/private partnership with Metro Nashville to promote healthy lifestyles for Middle Tennessee residents and continue increasing participation in youth and amateur hockey. He was also integral in Nashville being named as the host of the 2016 NHL All-Star Game in January. The local organizing committee is working to create an environment with unique activities to create a "Nashville feel" for one of the NHL's signature events. The NHL All-Star Weekend will create a significant economic impact for Middle Tennessee.

Prior to joining the Predators, Cogen served as President of both the Dallas Stars (2007-10) and Texas Rangers (2004-07) after previously working under the Hicks Sports Group umbrella from 1993-2001. As President of the Rangers, and then the Stars, Cogen ran all business aspects of the franchises, and also served as Hicks Sports Group's primary representative on American Airlines Center Board that provides oversight and leadership on all arena issues including overall financial performance, capital expenditures, third party events, and team operations.

With the Rangers, where he was also Chief Operating Officer for one year, Cogen increased revenues by 20 percent over a three-year span, and generated revenue streams through a landmark naming-rights deal (Ameriquest Field in Arlington), and through non-traditional outlets such has technological partnerships.

In his first stint with the Stars as Vice President from 1993-99, Cogen helped build the newly relocated franchise's season-ticket base to more than 15,000 fans and saw a sellout streak that lasted more than 150 games over a nearly four-season span. Following his promotion to Executive V.P. of Marketing and Sales of Southwest Sports Group (entity that operated both the Stars and Rangers), Cogen created synergies between the teams that led to exponential rises in ticket and sponsorship revenue.

Cogen's two stints in Dallas were bridged by a successful two-year stretch as Chief Operating Officer of the Florida Panthers and the then-Office Depot Center. From 2001-03, he executed a naming rights agreement for the venue, and boosted income on both the team and building sides via joint entertainment ventures.

The Newport News, Va., native's first taste of professional sports came as Director, and later Vice President of Marketing for Olympia Arenas, the managing company of Detroit Red Wings, Joe Louis Arena and Fox Theater, from 1986-93. He started his career with Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Shows in 1979, managing more than 100 engagements until August 1986.

Cogen currently serves on the Adventure Science Center Board of Directors and Executive Committee, the Fifth Third Advisory Board, the Nashville Chamber of Commerce Board and Audit and Finance Committee, the T.J. Martell Board and the Partnership 20/20 Lead Investor Group.

The graduate of Old Dominion University resides in Franklin, Tenn., with his wife and their dogs, Deejay & Charlie, while their three children attend college.

SEAN HENRY PRESIDENT/CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

When he's not interacting with fans, counting down until the next game, promoting Predators events and Middle Tennessee or cheering for his favorite baseball team through his popular @PREDSident Twitter account, Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena President/Chief Operating Office and Alternate Governor Sean Henry is leading "the greatest staff in all of sports" through a unique approach that unifies the organization across all fronts.

In 2014-15, his fifth season in Smashville, Henry led the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena to one of their most successful seasons to date – a season that included a 2014 Pollstar Arena of the Year award, an average of 16,900 fans in attendance at Nashville Predators games (98 percent capacity), three sold-out Stanley Cup Playoff contests, the opening of Ford Ice Center in Antioch, Tenn., and the extensive development of new and existing sponsorship and premium products.

Henry's work at 501 Broadway is centered on the organization's ONE GOAL to be the "No. 1 Sports and Entertainment venue in the World," something that, with every passing week and month, becomes closer to reality. This quest began with Henry leading a team that forged a partnership with Metro Nashville to secure Bridgestone Arena's new lease with the city of Nashville, keeping the downtown staple thriving and growing through 2028 and continues through each and every decision the organization makes on a daily basis.

During the summer of 2015, Henry led Bridgestone Arena through a renovation of the entire lower bowl – including new seats, hand rails, signage and flooring. The most recent off-season also saw restrooms and concession stands transform through extensive renovations throughout the building. These latest renovations come on the heels of the opening of the Nissan SoBro entrance, Tavern '96, the Predators Team Store and the Lexus Lounge – all a part of the organization's plan to make the Bridgestone Arena experience for every guest, player, performer, musician, fan and employee that walks through its doors the best it possibly can be.

For Henry, on par with every seat filled, every renovation finished and every ticket sold, is the organization's commitment to the city of Nashville through the Nashville Predators Foundation and the Nashville Predators' Youth Hockey programs. The Foundation's grants and programs funded more than $1 million in programs and donations to over 400 local organization in the 2014-15 season and the organization's Hearts of Gold program infused the area with more than 6,000 community service hours donated by employees, players and staff. All of which create a special workplace environment while also changing lives throughout Middle Tennessee.

Henry wasn't always as lucky as he is now, getting to call Nashville home and work with the staff at the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena. However, he did have successful experiences elsewhere that helped him become the leader in Smashville that he is today – including 11 years as the Executive Vice President and COO at Palace Sports and Entertainment, two years as the Vice President of Sales and Marketing with Unity Motion and 14 years with Volume Services Inc., where he worked with the Detroit Pistons, St. Louis Rams and the Washington Redskins.

Though much of his time is spent moving the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena towards its ONE GOAL, Henry finds the hours in each day to also serve on the boards of the Nashville Predators Foundation, the YWCA of Nashville and Middle Tennessee, the Nashville Downtown Partnership, the Nashville Sports Council, The Sports Fund, work as an Adjunct Professor at Belmont University, and stay involved (along with his wife) in his children's schools, sports teams and clubs.

Despite the numerous titles and accolades Henry has achieved in his professional career, his 2015 Father of the Year Award is one that has no equal and one that would not be possible without the support of his wife of 23 years Tracey Manning (a.k.a. the Suburban Diva) or his four children – Steven, Matthew, Amy and Jessica. How Henry managed to win Father of the Year despite his constant attempts to recreate National Lampoon's Vacation and repeated stories (all normally captured in the Diva's writings), is perhaps his greatest achievement.

PAUL FENTON ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Now entering his 18th season with the Predators, and his 10th as the club's assistant general manager in 2015-16, Paul Fenton has been instrumental in bringing in many of Nashville's core players through the draft, trades and free-agent signings.

After serving as the director of player personnel for the Predators' first eight seasons, Fenton was promoted to assistant general manager on June 5, 2006, where he oversees the Predators' amateur player development, manages the team's professional and amateur scouting staff and advises President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile on player personnel decisions. He has assisted in player acquisitions since joining the Predators and managed the club's Entry Draft efforts from 2003 (when the team selected Ryan Suter, Shea Weber, Kevin Klein and Alexander Sulzer) until 2008 when he passed the torch to Chief Amateur Scout Jeff Kealty.

Of the 34 players the Predators used in 2014-15, 17 of them were drafted by Nashville while another three were acquired by Nashville before making their NHL debut, meaning no fewer than 20 players used were "homegrown" for the fourth consecutive season.

Fenton also serves as general manager of the Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the Milwaukee Admirals of the American Hockey League, who made 12 consecutive playoff appearances from 2003-14 while also focusing on prospect development; for the second straight season in 2014-15, the Ads roster contained only six regulars over the age of 25. Milwaukee also became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons from 2002-03 to 2010-11 with the likes of future Preds such as Weber, Pekka Rinne, Roman Josi, Colin Wilson, Ryan Ellis, Mattias Ekholm and Filip Forsberg. Fenton served as Associate GM for Team USA at the 2011 World Championship.

The Springfield, Mass., native joined the Predators after spending five seasons in the Anaheim Ducks' hockey operations department. He served as a scout during his first three seasons with the Ducks and as the chief professional scout the last two years. A number of players drafted during Fenton's run with the Ducks – such as Paul Kariya, Steve Rucchin, Ruslan Salei and Mike LeClerc – led Anaheim to the 2003 Stanley Cup Final. Fenton also helped facilitate one of the Anaheim franchise's largest trades, the February 1996 acquisition of Teemu Selanne.

Fenton played eight seasons in the NHL before joining the scouting ranks. He amassed 100 goals and 83 assists in 411 NHL contests while playing for seven different NHL teams, including San Jose during the Sharks' inaugural season (1991-92). In 1989-90, the former Boston University Terrier scored an NHL career-high 32 goals for the Winnipeg Jets, and his playing resume also includes three selections to AHL and IHL All-Star teams.

Paul and his wife, Nona, reside in Brentwood. They have two sons, P.J., who plays for Fort Wayne of the ECHL, and Owen, a doctoral student in chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

JEFF KEALTY CHIEF AMATEUR SCOUT

Jeff Kealty enters his ninth season as the Nashville Predators Chief Amateur Scout and 15th campaign with the organization in 2015-16. While his primary responsibility is monitoring the best draft-eligible talent around the globe and spearheading the team's annual efforts at the NHL Entry Draft, Kealty also keeps an eye on the development of prospects in the CHL, NCAA and other junior leagues across North America and Europe.

The Boston native has overseen Nashville's past seven drafts, helping to bolster the club's depth across the board, selecting 37 forwards, 18 defensemen and eight goalies since his first year running Nashville's draft table in 2008.

Nashville continued to reap the benefits of Kealty and his staff's astute drafting in 2014-15. Of the seven 2014 draftees to appear in the NHL last season, Nashville had two of them – Kevin Fiala – the 11th overall selection who also dressed for a 2015 Stanley Cup Playoff game – and Viktor Arvidsson – selected 112th overall. Seth Jones, selected fourth overall in 2013, has played more games than any other player from his draft class, while Filip Forsberg – who led the Preds in points in 2014-15 and is an emerging superstar for the club – was ranked third by Nashville's scouting staff for the 2012 Entry Draft, an integral component in his acquisition from Washington.

Other homegrown selections selected early in the Kealty era such as Roman Josi, Mattias Ekholm, Ryan Ellis, Craig Smith, Colin Wilson and Gabriel Bourque have developed into core pieces of the Predators. Further down the organizational depth chart, Nashville is bullish on the development of Colton Sissons, Marek Mazanec, Miikka Salomaki, Anthony Bitetto and Austin Watson – all of whom have made their NHL debuts – as well as goaltender Juuse Saros and power forward Vladislav Kamenev, who are expected to play their rookie AHL seasons in 2015-16, and 2012 third rounder and rising Harvard senior Jimmy Vesey, a 2015 Hobey Baker Finalist.

A former first-round pick (22nd overall) of the Quebec Nordiques in 1994, Kealty was signed by Nashville as a free agent in 1998 following a four-year college career at Boston University. The former defenseman played one pro season for the Milwaukee Admirals (International Hockey League) before his playing career was cut short due to injury. Kealty, his wife Lynn, daughter Lydia and son James (twins), and daughter Hannah reside in Norfolk, Mass.

SCOTT NICHOL DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Scott Nichol enters his third season as the Predators Director of Player Development in 2015-16. In his role, Nichol is responsible for following and evaluating prospects drafted by Nashville, in addition to working with players on all levels throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. He assists them with their maturation process into NHL players by focusing on nutrition, off-ice workouts and conditioning, practice habits and game performance.

Nichol hung up the skates and rejoined the Predators organization in May 2013 after completing a 20-season professional career which spanned from 1994-95 to 2012-13. The Edmonton, Alberta native, who played 209 regular-season games (24g-23a-47pts) for the Predators from 2005-09, posted 127 points (56g-71a) and 916 penalty minutes in 662 NHL games with Buffalo, Calgary, Chicago, Nashville, San Jose and St. Louis and 211 points (90g-121a) and 1,029 penalty minutes in 398 games at the American and International Hockey League level with Rochester, Detroit and Milwaukee. He helped the San Jose Sharks advance to back-to-back Western Conference Finals in 2010 and 2011, and won the AHL's Calder Cup as a member of the Rochester Americans in 1996.

Perennially one of the NHL's top face-off men, Nichol, led the League in face-off efficiency in 2007-08 with Nashville and during the 2009-10 season with San Jose. He also holds a Nashville franchise record for shorthanded goals in a game/period with two in the second period of a 5-2 victory at St. Louis on Jan. 19, 2008.

Buffalo's ninth selection, 272nd overall (11th round), in the 1993 Entry Draft was coached by Predators Radio Analyst Brent Peterson with the Portland Winterhawks from 1992-94, posting 157 points (71g-86a) and 290 penalty minutes in 132 Western Hockey League games.

He also serves as head coach for the Rochester Monarchs 2003 and 2004 squads.

Nichol and his wife Christie, sons Hayden and Foster, and daughter Sophia reside in Rochester, N.Y. Follow him on Twitter @RealScottNichol.

PETER LAVIOLETTE HEAD COACH

After a wildly successful first season with the Predators – which saw him named as a head coach at the 2015 All-Star Game, a finalist for the Jack Adams Award and lead the team to their third-best record in franchise history – Peter Laviolette enters his second season as Head Coach of the Nashville Predators in 2015-16. Known for his aggressive offensive philosophy and having reached every team's ultimate goal after winning the 2006 Stanley Cup with the Carolina Hurricanes, Laviolette was named the second head coach in Nashville Predators history on May 6, 2014.

In season No. 1 in the Music City, Laviolette coached the Preds to a 47-25-10 record (104 points) – nine more wins and 16 more points than the team finished with a season earlier – to return to the Stanley Cup Playoffs. He implemented an offensive strategy in Nashville that increased the team's goals per game to 2.76 in 2014-15, up from 2.61 in 2013-14, and 31.9 shots per game, third in the NHL. The 2014-15 season with highlighted by a scorching start which saw the Preds reach 10, 20, 30 and 40 wins quicker than any other point in team history, and top the Western Conference standings in each of the season's five full months (November-March). At 2015 All-Star Weekend in Columbus, Laviolette and his staff manned the Team Toews bench after the Predators held the League's highest point percentage at the season's midpoint (.725, 27-9-4 record). It was his second career NHL All-Star appearance, having shared coaching duties at the 2011 NHL All-Star Game in Raleigh. His efforts also earned him a spot as one of three finalists for the 2015 Jack Adams Award, the second time in his career he has been named a finalist.

Upon coming to Nashville, Laviolette immediately instilled the intensity and urgency necessary to help veteran players thrive and young players reach their potential. Players like Roman Josi, Filip Forsberg and Seth Jones emerged as rising stars in their first season of the Laviolette regime, established NHLers like Colin Wilson set career highs in goals and points, while veterans like Mike Ribeiro experienced a career renaissance.

After winning his first two games as head coach of the Preds (career wins 390 and 391), Laviolette passed Hall of Famer Fred Shero for 32nd on the all-time NHL wins as head coach list, and on Nov. 15, 2014 vs. Winnipeg, won his 400th career game.

Prior to joining the Predators, Laviolette compiled a career coaching record of 389-282-(25)-63 (866 points) in parts of 12 seasons with the New York Islanders (2001-03), Carolina Hurricanes (2003-09) and Philadelphia Flyers (2009-14). Like the Preds in 2014-15, each of his previous three teams improved exponentially in the first full season after he took the helm: the Islanders finished with 96 points and the eighth-best record in the League in 2001-02 after finishing 30th with 52 points the season prior; the Hurricanes went from 23rd in the NHL with 76 points to fourth with 112 points in 2005-06; and the Flyers improved from 88 points and 18th in the NHL to 106 points and fourth in 2010-11. Laviolette won 52 games in his first full season with Carolina in 2005-06 – earning him runner-up Jack Adams Award honors in the closest vote in award history – in addition to recording back-to-back 47-win seasons with Philadelphia in 2010-11 and 2011-12, and hitting the 40-win mark on three other occasions (2001-02, 2006-07 and 2007-08).

Including his Stanley Cup win in 2006 with Carolina, Laviolette has made seven postseason appearances – two with the Islanders in 2002 and 2003 to end a seven-year postseason absence for the franchise; three with the Flyers – all of which saw the team advance beyond the opening round, including the 2009-10 campaign, when he took over midseason and led the team to Game Six of the Stanley Cup Final; and in 2015 with the Predators.

Laviolette's offensive-minded philosophy is evidenced by his teams finishing in the Top 10 in goals six times in nine full NHL seasons, with three of those being top-three results. When coaching a team for a full season, Laviolette's squad has never finished lower than 14th in goals for. That doesn't include his two midseason takeovers where the Hurricanes improved their goals average from 1.87 to 2.23 when he moved behind the bench in 2003-04, and when the Flyers finished eighth in offensive output in 2009-10.

His work with Nashville's young core continues a long track record of developing talent at the NHL level – in Philadelphia, Claude Giroux played his first full season under Laviolette in 2009-10, and has become one of the NHL's elite offensive producers, posting 93 points and finishing fourth in Hart Trophy voting in 2011-12; James Van Riemsdyk played his first NHL games under Laviolette in 2009-10, then hit the 21-goal mark as a 21-year-old in his sophomore season a year later; Jakub Voracek improved his point-per-game average from .58 with Columbus to .75 with Laviolette's Flyers teams after a trade in the summer of 2011; Wayne Simmonds doubled his goal total from 14 in 2010-11 with Los Angeles to 28 in his first season with Philadelphia in 2011-12; and Matt Read posted 24 goals as a rookie in the same season. Former Predator Scott Hartnell also hit career highs in goals (37) and points (67) in 2011-12, being named to his only All-Star Game.

In Carolina, Eric Staal played his first four-plus seasons under Laviolette, notching a career-high 45 goals and 100 points to finish fourth in Hart Trophy voting during the Cup-winning campaign; Justin Williams, a three-time Stanley Cup winner and the 2014 Conn Smythe Trophy recipient as playoff MVP, posted his top-two point totals and only two 30-goal seasons under Laviolette in 2005-06 and 2006-07. Finally with the Islanders in 2001-02, a 24-year-old Mark Parrish hit the 30-goal mark for the only time in his career.

COACHING STAFF

Second in wins among U.S.-born NHL coaches and one of just eight men employed as an NHL head coach at the start of the 2015-16 campaign to have won a Stanley Cup, Laviolette has served as head coach for the United States at three World Championships: in 2004 when the nation earned its first medal in eight years, a bronze, in Prague, Czech Republic; the following spring at the 2005 Championship in Innsbruck and Vienna, Austria; and most recently in 2014 in Minsk, Belarus.
He has also represented his country in four Olympic Games, first as a player in the 1988 Calgary Games and the 1994 Lillehammer Games, then as a head coach at the 2006 Torino Games, and as an assistant at the 2014 Sochi Games.

A native of Franklin, Mass., Laviolette began his coaching career with the ECHL's Wheeling Nailers in 1997-98, coaching them to a 37-24-9 record and a spot in the Northern Conference Final. He was hired as head coach of the American Hockey League's Providence Bruins following his rookie season in West Virginia, and proceeded to lead the Bruins to an AHL-best 56-16-4-4 record during the 1998-99 season and the 1999 Calder Cup title. Given Providence's 19-49-7-5 record and last-place finish in the AHL the season prior to Laviolette's takeover, his efforts earned him the 1999 Louis A.R. Pieri Memorial Award as AHL Coach of the Year. He spent one more season in Providence, with the team advancing to the 2000 Eastern Conference Final, before being promoted to an assistant coach under Pat Burns and later Mike Keenan with the parent Boston Bruins, which he assumed for a single campaign (2000-01) until his hiring as 10th coach in New York Islanders history on May 23, 2001.

The former defenseman began his coaching career after 11 seasons playing professionally in the National, International and American Hockey Leagues, and internationally for the U.S. National Team, from 1986-97. He amassed 268 points (78g-190a) in 594 minor-league games in the IHL (Indianapolis, Colorado, Denver, Flint and San Diego) and AHL (Binghamton and Providence) from 1986-97, while appearing in 12 games for the New York Rangers in 1988-89. Laviolette also spent the majority of the 1987-88 and 1993-94 seasons with Team USA preparing for the Olympics, recording a pair of assists in six games at the 1988 Games, then wearing the "C" and scoring one goal in eight games at the 1994 Games.

The Westfield State (Mass.) University graduate finished his collegiate career ranked 14th on the school's all-time points list (43g-44a-87pts) and was named its alumnus of the year in 1988 and inducted into its sports hall of fame in 2002. A three-year captain, Laviolette led the Owls in scoring and was an MASCAC all-conference defenseman his senior season.

Laviolette and his wife, Kristen, have three children – sons Peter and Jack, and daughter Elisabeth.

PHIL HOUSLEY ASSISTANT COACH

Phil Housley enters his third season as an assistant coach for the Nashville Predators in 2015-16 after helping lead the club back to the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the first time in three seasons. A member of the Hockey Hall of Fame's Class of 2015 and the fourth-highest scoring blueliner in NHL history, Housley's primary responsibility is running one of the top defensive corps in the League, and heading up the power play.

Housley helped mentor the youngest defensive group in the NHL for the second consecutive season in 2014-15, helping the team finish third in five-on-five goal differential and among the Top 10 in goals allowed while producing the most goals by a defensive corps (55) and the second-most points (193). Housley's guidance helped Roman Josi post career numbers and emerge as one of the best defensemen in the game playing alongside perennial Norris Trophy candidate Shea Weber, with rising young talent Ryan Ellis, Seth Jones, Mattias Ekholm continuing to build on solid starts to their careers.

Since entering the coaching ranks in 2004, Housley has helped USA Hockey reach new heights, highlighted by a gold medal-winning performance at the 2013 World Junior Championship with a team that included Jones and Predators 2012 third-round pick Jimmy Vesey. He's also served as an assistant at five other international competitions, helping the U.S. National Team earn bronze medals at the 2013 World Championship and both the 2007 and 2011 World Junior Championships, while also serving behind the bench at the 2014 World Championship, alongside Predators Head Coach Peter Laviolette, and at the 2011 edition of the tournament. He was also one of two head coaches for the inaugural CCM/USA Hockey All-American Prospects Game in 2012.

The highest scoring American-born defenseman amassed 1,232 points (338g-894a) in 1,495 NHL regular-season games – sixth-most games all-time among blueliners – in a career that spanned 21 seasons (1982-2003) with eight teams (Buffalo, Winnipeg, St. Louis, Calgary, New Jersey, Washington, Chicago and Toronto), landing him a spot as an honored member of the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2015. Housley was also a seven-time All-Star Game selection, a 1992 Second-Team All-Star, finished among the Top Five in Norris Trophy voting four times, and was runner-up for the 1983 Calder Trophy as an 18-year-old. A first-round pick (sixth overall) by the Buffalo Sabres in the 1982 NHL Entry Draft, Housley was inducted into the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame in 2004.

The 51-year-old native of South St. Paul, Minn., also played extensively for his country. A seven-time member of the U.S. National Team at the World Championship (1982, 1986, 1989, 1996, 2000, 2001, 2003), Housley helped Team USA to one of its biggest international victories ever by capturing the 1996 World Cup of Hockey title, and also earned a silver medal at the 2002 Salt Lake City Olympics and. He was inducted into the IIHF Hall of Fame in 2012, received the USA Hockey Distinguished Achievement Award in 2013 for his outstanding contributions on or off the ice to the sport in America, the 2008 Lester Patrick Award for outstanding service to hockey in the United States, and USA Hockey's Bob Johnson Award in 2000 for excellence in international competition.

Housley and his wife, Minnesota State Senator Karin, have four children, Taylor, Reide, Wilson and Avery.

KEVIN MCCARTHY ASSISTANT COACH

Kevin McCarthy enters his second season with the Nashville Predators organization in 2015-16, and brings nearly 40 years of professional hockey playing, coaching and front-office experience to his position of assistant coach. McCarthy's responsibilities include running the team's forward corps and heading up the penalty kill.

In his first season in Nashville in 2014-15, McCarthy helped the franchise return to the playoffs for the first time in three seasons, making a nine-win and 16-point improvement on its record from the prior season. With McCarthy's help, the Predators improved their five-on-five goal differential from 25th in the NHL in 2013-14 to third best in 2014-15, in addition to scoring more goals overall, and improving the penalty kill. Rookie forward Filip Forsberg was one of the top first-year players in the League under McCarthy's watch, while others, like Colin Wilson, posted career-best numbers.

Prior to joining the Predators, McCarthy served as an assistant coach on Peter Laviolette's staff in Philadelphia for five seasons from 2009-14. The duo joined the Flyers on Dec. 4, 2009 and proceeded to lead them to Game Six of the 2010 Stanley Cup Final, then see the team make an 18-point improvement during their first full season in 2010-11. Philadelphia won 47 games and advanced past the opening round of the Stanley Cup Playoffs in both 2010-11 and 2011-12, with McCarthy helping the likes of Claude Giroux, James Van Riemsdyk, Jakub Voracek, Wayne Simmonds and former Predator Scott Hartnell blossom into NHL stars or hit career years during his time working with them.

The bulk of McCarthy's work behind the bench came with the Hartford Whalers/Carolina Hurricanes organization for 16 seasons from 1992-2009, including its Stanley Cup-winning campaign in 2005-06 and another Stanley Cup Final appearance in 2001-02.

After three seasons as an assistant for the Whalers (1992-95), he served as head coach for the franchise's AHL affiliates in Springfield (1995-97) and New Haven (1997-99), compiling a 156-123-36 record. He rejoined the parent team for the 1999-2000 season, and spent the next nine years as a Hurricanes assistant. In addition to team success, he helped Eric Staal go from an 18-year-old rookie to a 100-point producer and veterans like 2014 Conn Smythe Trophy winner Justin Williams experience a career year.

McCarthy's coaching career started as a player-assistant coach for the AHL's Hershey Bears (1987-88), before a full-time move behind the bench as an assistant in 1988-89 and head coach in 1989-90. He also has front-office experience as the Flyers Director of Player Development from 1990-92.

The former defenseman spent 10 seasons in the NHL with the Flyers, Vancouver Canucks and Pittsburgh Penguins from 1977-87, posting 258 points (67g-191a) in 527 career games. During his time with Vancouver, he served as the Canucks' team captain for three seasons (1979-82) and was named a starter in the 1981 NHL All-Star Game. A native of Winnipeg, Man., McCarthy played his junior hockey for his hometown Clubs and Monarchs of the Western Canada Hockey League, and was a member of Canada's 1975 World Junior Championship entry that earned a silver medal.

As a result of being a part of the coaching staff of the team with the best point percentage at the midpoint of the season, Vanderklok also represented the Predators at the 2015 All-Star Game during his first year with the franchise.

Named to the position on June 12, 2014, Vanderklok works with all goaltenders in the Nashville system, including those playing in Milwaukee (AHL), Cincinnati (ECHL), amateur leagues and Europe.

Prior to his current role, Vanderklok served as the organization's assistant goaltending coach for five seasons from 2009-14, where he worked with nearly all the goalies within the organization. His work was integral in Marek Mazanec's transition to North America in 2013-14, which saw him play 25 games with the Predators, becoming the youngest in club history to record a shutout on Nov. 19, 2013 at Detroit and being named the NHL's Rookie of the Month for November 2013. Also in 2013-14, Scott Darling came to the organization with one AHL game to his credit, and ended the season ranked among the league leaders in save percentage (.933), goals-against average (2.00) and shutouts (6) for the Admirals, earning him a full-time NHL position with the Chicago Blackhawks.

The Welland, Ontario native worked as goalie coach of the Ontario Hockey League's Niagara IceDogs from 2008-14, helping them reach the playoffs six consecutive seasons and reach the 2012 OHL Final. During his first four seasons with the IceDogs, Vanderklok helped Mark Visentin become a first-round pick of the Arizona Coyotes (27th overall), earn a pair of medals with Team Canada at the World Junior Championship, become 2011 OHL Goaltender of the Year, and earn the 2012 Dave Pinkney Trophy as the goalie with the lowest goals-against average. Visentin also broke a 62-season OHL record for most shutouts in a season in 2011-12 (10). In 2012-13 and 2013-14, he also coached Brent Moran, who was the third-ranked North American netminder in Central Scouting's 2014 rankings, and was selected 115th overall (fourth round) in the 2014 Entry Draft by Dallas.

Vanderklok started his coaching career with the Port Colborne Pirates of the Golden Horseshoe Junior Hockey League (Junior B) from 2003-06 before instructing and training Brock University's (Ontario) goalies from 2007-09. Since 2003, he has run Ben Vanderklok Goaltending, which conducts camps and clinics in the St. Catharines, Ont., region.

A dual Canadian-Dutch citizen, Vanderklok retired from play following four seasons (2000-04) and two league titles in 2002 and 2003 with the Amsterdam Tigers of the Netherlands Elite League. He played a pair of seasons with the OHL's Barrie Colts from 1998-2000.

DAVID GOOD STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

David Good enters his 12th season as the strength and conditioning coach of the Nashville Predators. He joined the Predators in July of 2004 and is responsible for preparing and supervising workout programs for all players in the Predators organization. Good also runs the club's prospect development program and the off-ice aspects of the Predators Hockey School.

Good was instrumental in developing a program for Steve Sullivan that allowed the Predators forward to return to the ice on January 12, 2009 after almost a two-year absence that included missing 142 straight regular-season games and 11 playoff games due to a back injury. In June of 2009, Sullivan won the NHL's Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy given "to the player that best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey." During the summer of 2010, he designed and outfitted the new weight room at Bridgestone Arena with triple the amount of space to facilitate optimal in-season training.

Prior to joining the Predators, Good served as the Director of Speed-Strength and Conditioning for West Coast Sports Performance and Center for Athlete Medicine in Manhattan Beach, Calif., and also served as a consultant for the Long Beach Ice Dogs (ECHL). The Colorado native served as the Assistant Speed-Strength and Conditioning Coach for the Los Angeles Kings from 1999-2003 and held the same title from 1997-99 with the Ice Dogs (IHL). He also served as Strength and Conditioning Coordinator at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles from 1998-99.

Before moving to California, Good served as the Student Assistant Strength and Conditioning coach at the University of Colorado for two years. He received his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from the University of Colorado at Boulder along with certifications in strength and conditioning, sports conditioning, Olympic weightlifting and kettlebell training.

Good and his wife, Amanda, reside in Franklin, Tenn.

Willy Daunic (Twitter: @WillyD1025) begins his first season as the Predators television play-by-play broadcaster on game broadcasts on FOX Sports Tennessee, after spending the last two seasons in the radio play-by-play role. Prior to joining the game broadcasts, Daunic, who has worked with the Predators since the team's inception in 1998, hosted pregame, intermission and postgame radio shows.

In addition to his work with the Predators, Daunic has been hosting an afternoon sports talk show in Nashville since 1993 and joined the Predators' flagship station, 102.5 The Game when it became an all-sports station in 2011. He also co-hosted Fox-17's "The Game," a 30-minute sports magazine show on Sunday nights, from 2015.

Daunic has performed a wide variety of play-by-play and color duties on both radio and television in Nashville, including Vanderbilt University (football, baseball and basketball), Belmont University basketball, Nashville Sounds, TSSAA (Tennessee) State Championship games (football, baseball and basketball) and more.

A 1993 graduate of Vanderbilt University with a bachelor's degree in history, Daunic attended Vanderbilt on a basketball scholarship and lettered in both basketball and baseball. Following his college career, Daunic was drafted by the Toronto Blue Jays in the 25th round of the 1993 MLB Draft and played two seasons of minor league baseball.

Daunic lives in Nashville with his wife Erin, his daughter Evans (13) and son Mahoney (10).

STU GRIMSON TV COLOR ANALYST

Stu Grimson (Twitter: @asgrimson) enters his second season as the color analyst for the Preds television broadcasts on FOX Sports in 2015-16, a role he first took on in 2014-15 after working the past six seasons as a color analyst on the Predators Radio Network. In addition to his broadcast work, Grimson is a regular contributor to NashvillePredators.com and serves as the President of the Nashville Predators Alumni Association and as the President of the Nashville Jr. Predators.

Grimson, who played in 30 games with the Predators during the 2001-02 season, posted 17 goals, 22 assists and 2113 penalty minutes in 729 career games with Calgary, Chicago, Anaheim, Detroit, Hartford, Carolina, Los Angeles and Nashville from 1987-2003.

After retiring from the NHL following the 2002-03 season, Grimson returned to school, finished his undergraduate degree and earned a law degree from the University of Memphis in December of 2005. The Kamloops, B.C., native then went to work as a labor lawyer for the NHLPA for two years before returning to Nashville to work as a defense attorney with Kay, Griffin, Enkema & Colbert, PLLC.

Stu resides in Brentwood. He has three daughters, Erin, Hannah and Jayne and a son, Kristjan.

CHRIS MASON RADIO COLOR ANALYST

Chris Mason, who played 135 games for the Nashville Predators over the course of seven seasons with the club, will join the Nashville Predators Radio Network as a color commentator for select games during the 2015-16 season.

Mason first joined the Predators on Oct. 5, 1998 when he was acquired via trade from the Anaheim Ducks. He went on to spend seven of the next eight seasons with the organization, splitting time between the Preds and the Milwaukee Admirals, the team's IHL/AHL affiliate. After four seasons away from the Preds, Mason returned to Nashville as a free agent on July 1, 2012 and played 11 games for the team during the 2012-13 season. Throughout his career wearing Predators Gold, the Red Deer, Alta., native recorded 58 wins, a 2.61 goals-against average and a .913 save percentage. On April 15, 2006, he became the ninth goalie in NHL history to score a goal.

PETE WEBER RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

The "Voice of the Predators" Pete Weber (Twitter: @petewebersports) begins his 18th season as part of the Nashville Predators broadcast crew and his first working as the team's primary radio play-by-play announcer in 2015-16. In the last 17 seasons, Weber has missed just two games and has called nearly 1,200 regular season and playoff games for the club.

His insights are called upon by local sportstalk radio and television, and his writing is regularly featured on the team's website. In January 2015, Weber won his third Tennessee Sportscaster of the Year award, as voted by the National Association of Sportscasters and Sportswriters.

Pete has served the last seven seasons as an "insider" on Sirius/XM's NHL Network Radio, and has served as co-host of Slapshot Radio since the fall of 2009.

In addition to his roles with the team, Weber served as co-host of SportsNight from 2003 through 2005, filled in as host on ESPN Radio, called two Music City Bowl games and helped out on Nashville Sounds baseball broadcasts. He also produced and hosted two podcasts: "This Week in the Minor (baseball) Leagues" and the syndicated "Southern Pro Football."

Weber's hockey experience includes three seasons (1978-81) as analyst on the Los Angeles Kings radio and telecasts, two seasons (1995-97) of radio play-by-play for the Buffalo Sabres and coverage of the U.S. hockey team at the 1984 Winter Olympics in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, along with duties as host for Buffalo's cable and radio coverage. At the college level, he called games for his alma mater (University of Notre Dame) from 1974 to 1976, and the University at Buffalo from 1976 through 1978.

Outside of hockey, Weber spent 15 seasons in Triple AAA baseball with Albuquerque, Rochester and Buffalo, where he was inducted into the Buffalo Baseball Hall of Fame in 1999. He served one season as TV play-by-play for the NBA's Seattle SuperSonics and was part of the broadcast team for each of the Buffalo Bills' four Super Bowl appearances.

A regional Emmy award winner (2003, 2008, and 2010), Pete is on the Board of Governors for the Mid-South's chapter for the National Academy of TV Arts and Sciences. In addition, he is on the advisory board for the Tennessee Radio Hall of Fame.

A native of Galesburg, Ill., Pete holds two degrees from the University of Notre Dame. He and his wife Claudia, reside in Nashville.

BRENT PETERSON RADIO COLOR ANALYST

A Nashville Predator since Day One, Brent Peterson enters his second season as color analyst on the Predators' radio broadcasts. After spending his first 13 seasons with the franchise as a member of the team's coaching staff, Peterson spent 2011-14 as Hockey Operations Advisor, working closely with General Manager David Poile and the coaching staff in all matters involving the team, in addition to being active in the community and in sponsorship and business operations.

A tireless worker in the community, Peterson established the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's (PFP) in 2007 to raise awareness of the devastating effects of Parkinson's disease. Since 2011, PFP has joined forces with the Nashville Predators to hold Petey's Preds Party – a fun night of live entertainment, dinner and an extensive silent auction – and the Nashville Predators/Brent Peterson Celebrity Golf Classic at Vanderbilt Legends Club. In its first three years of existence, the combination Party and Golf Classic have raised more than $200,000 which was split between Parkinson's research and the Predators Foundation. Donations to PFP fund critical research to aid in the fight against the disease as well as educational and support groups.

During the 2011-12 season, Peterson brought his battle with Parkinson's into the public eye – including in-depth coverage of his Deep Brain Stimulation Surgery (DBS) – in an effort to create awareness and cultivate donations to the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's. Since the DBS, Peterson is happy, healthy and has seen a dramatic reduction of his Parkinson's symptoms.

In his time behind the Predators bench as both associate coach (2003-11) and assistant coach (1998-2003), Peterson worked closely with the penalty-killing unit that has finished among the top 12 in the NHL in 10-of-12 seasons, and a defensive corps that gave up the second-fewest goals in his final season behind the bench (2010-11). He helped the club to Stanley Cup Playoff berths in six of his last seven seasons behind the bench.

Peterson joined the Predators after serving as head coach of the Portland Winterhawks (WHL) for seven seasons, posting a 201-138-20 mark. During the 1997-98 season, the Winterhawks were a league-best 53-14-5 and captured the WHL Championship and the Memorial Cup. He recorded 40-or-more victories on four occasions and helped develop NHL first-round picks Adam Deadmarsh (1993), Jason Wiemer (1994), Brenden Morrow (1997) and Marian Hossa (1997).

Prior to joining Portland, the Calgary, Alta., native spent two seasons (1989-91) as an assistant coach with the Hartford Whalers (NHL) following his retirement as a player. The former first-round pick of Detroit (1978) played 11 NHL seasons from 1978-89 with Detroit, Buffalo, Vancouver and Hartford. He appeared in 620 NHL games, collecting 213 points (72g-141a) and 484 penalty minutes. Peterson was known as one of the NHL's top defensive forwards and penalty killers.

Brent and his wife, Tami, reside in Franklin, Tenn. They have three children: Ryan, Brad and Kristin, and four grandchildren.

TERRY CRISP STUDIO ANALYST

Entering his 18th year with the Predators, Terry Crisp provides analysis on the Predators during the club's television broadcasts. He regularly contributes insight to the Predators' website and has worked as a studio analyst for Canada's TSN during the 2000, 2002 and 2003 IIHF World Championships. Crisp also hosts his own radio show, Extra Crispy, on the Predators flagship radio station, 102.5 The Game.

From the franchise's first season in 1998 until 2013-14, Crisp worked alongside Pete Weber, forming one of the most well-known broadcast duos in the League. A part of the Predators' Emmy-winning broadcasts in 2003, 2008 and 2010, Crisp served as a color analyst for FOX Sports during the 1998-99 season and during the 1998 and 1999 Stanley Cup Finals, and has served in a similar capacity for TSN in past years.

Crisp posted 201 points (67g-134a) in 536 games during his 11 seasons in the NHL as a player for the Boston Bruins, St. Louis Blues, New York Islanders and Philadelphia Flyers. He won three Stanley Cup Championships, two as a player with the Flyers (1974 and 1975) and one as a coach with Calgary (1989), and he is one of only 14 people to have won the Cup as both player and head coach. The Parry Sound, Ont., native has a unique perspective on expansion teams: he was a player with the inaugural editions of the St. Louis Blues in 1967 and the New York Islanders in 1972.

Crisp was the head coach of the Tampa Bay Lightning from the franchise's inception in 1992 through October 1997, coaching 391 games. He held the record for most games coached by an expansion franchise's first coach until Barry Trotz, then with the Nashville Predators, broke the mark in 2003. In the 2004 NHL Stanley Cup Final, the Lightning defeated the Flames – the team he coached to the Cup in 1989. Crisp also served as the assistant coach of the silver medal-winning Canadian team at the 1992 Winter Olympic Games in Albertville, France.

Terry and his wife, Sheila, reside in Nashville. The Crisp's have three children – sons Tony and Jeff, and daughter Caley, and nine grandchildren.

Prior to hosting The Wakeup Zone, Howard was a sports anchor at WTVF-TV (CBS) in Nashville and worked for 103.3 WKDF doing morning sports from 1997-2002. The West Hartford, Conn., native who also worked in television in Evansville, Ind., from 1983-86, has called action for Triple-A baseball in Wichita and Evansville, and college hockey at Cornell. He graduated from Ithaca College in upstate New York in 1980 with a degree in history and political science.

Mark has a 12-year-old son Jack.

ARENA INFORMATION & POWERS MANAGEMENT

BRIDGESTONE ARENA

Powers Management
Bridgestone Arena • 501 Broadway
(615) 770-2000 • Fax (615) 770-2010

Serving as the home for numerous national and international events, Bridgestone Arena has the distinction of being one of the busiest venues in the Unites States since the doors first opened in 1996, hosting more than 20 million guests during that time. The National Hockey League's Nashville Predators have been the primary tenants of Bridgestone Arena since 1998 and boasts one of the most unique game atmospheres in the NHL. Seating capacity is approximately 20,000 for concerts, 19,395 for basketball and 17,113 for Nashville Predators games.

Formerly known as the Nashville Arena, the Gaylord Entertainment Center and the Sommet Center, the building became Bridgestone Arena in 2010 after Bridgestone Americas Inc., which is headquartered in Nashville, entered into multi-year naming-rights and marketing partnership with the Predators and Powers Management.

Initiated by former Nashville Mayor Phil Bredesen and approved by the Metro/Davidson County Council in 1993, Bridgestone Arena uniquely embraces Nashville's heritage as "Music City, U.S.A." Bridgestone Arena was designed as a tribute to Nashville's music roots, with the entrance positioned on the corner of Fifth Avenue and historic Broadway, facing the Ryman Auditorium – the original home of the Grand Ole Opry.

The one million-square-foot facility has also spurred downtown growth in the last eight years, inspiring further development that includes the Country Music Hall of Fame, the Frist Museum of the Visual Arts, the Schermerhorn Symphony Center, multiple hotels (Hilton, Omni, Hyatt), Encore Condominiums, Pinnacle at Symphony Place office building and the Downtown Public Library. In May 2013, the adjacent Music City Center, Nashville's newest convention facility, opened. Many new restaurants, stores and residential buildings have sprung up during the arena's tenure as well; as of May 2015, the Nashville Downtown Partnership listed 210 restaurants, 113 retail locations and 82 bars/small music venues in the downtown area, with more on the way. In 2017, Bridgestone Americas will relocate its headquarters to a new 30-story building currently under construction two blocks away from the Arena.

A report issued in 2012 estimated that Bridgestone Arena and the Nashville Predators generate an annual economic impact of approximately $410 million. More than 2,350 jobs are supported annually by the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena. Nearly two-thirds of attendees at all Bridgestone Arena events come from outside of Davidson County, creating a pure economic impact to Davidson County in dollars spent by out-of-county visitors.

Bridgestone Arena also hosts a variety of non-traditional functions for Davidson County, the city of Nashville and local residents. Bridgestone Arena tower is home to the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, an XM Radio studio and the Nashville Convention and Visitors Bureau, which hosts more than 500,000 tourists annually. Bridgestone Arena features The Patrón Platinum Club, a 260-seat fine-dining experience located on the building's suite level, which is open before and after games and concerts, and hosts a number of banquets and receptions. The Lexus Lounge, an exclusive Performers' Level Club that is home to the world's first convex curved 2mm LED wall offering a live panoramic view of the ice, features luxurious amenities such as personal concierge service, plush seating and special-themed buffets.

Continuously upgrading to improve experiences for fans, guests, performers and athletes, Bridgestone Arena replaced all of the seats in the lower bowl during the summer of 2015 and will continue the project in the summer of 2016 when the remainder of the seats, located in the club and upper bowls, will be replaced. The new seats are just the most recent renovations in a string of upgrades that Bridgestone Arena has undergone in recent years; including a new HVAC system, new carpet in several levels, exterior LED boards, a 6,000-square-foot Team Store and the opening of the Nissan SoBro entrance, which connects the arena with the Music City Center and the new businesses south of Broadway.

The arena also houses more than 6,000 square feet of meeting room space and a 13,500-square-foot rehearsal hall that is available for rent and used more than 200 days a year by national touring acts. Metro's Registry of Deeds is also located inside the Bridgestone Arena.

The list of acts that have called Bridgestone Arena home is lengthy and includes the Country Music Association Awards; the Country Music Television Awards; Keith Urban's "We're All For the Hall" benefit concerts; NCAA, SEC and OVC Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments, the 2014 NCAA Women's Final Four; and entertainers such as Garth Brooks, Paul McCartney, Elton John, Billy Joel, the Rolling Stones, KISS, Metallica, Taylor Swift, Justin Timberlake and Katy Perry. Bridgestone Arena is in the midst of hosting 12 consecutive SEC Basketball Championships (SEC Men's tournament: 2015-17, 2019-21, 2023-25, SEC Women's tournament: 2018, 2022, 2026).

ADMIRALS COACHING STAFF

DEAN EVASON HEAD COACH

Dean Evason enters his fourth season as the Milwaukee Admirals' head coach in 2015-16 after leading them to playoff berths in two of his first three seasons while developing Nashville's top prospects. In three seasons behind the Milwaukee bench, he has posted a 113-80-35 record.

Since taking the helm prior to the 2012-13 season, Evason has seen more than 20 players called up to the Predators and oversaw the development of several of the team's key cogs in their return to the Stanley Cup Playoffs in 2015, including Filip Forsberg, Taylor Beck, Calle Jarnkrok, Mattias Ekholm, Victor Bartley, Ryan Ellis, Gabriel Bourque and Craig Smith. In 2013-14, Evason led the Admirals to the postseason despite a youthful roster that contained only six players over the age of 25, a trend that continued in 2014-15. In his first season as benchboss in 2012-13, Milwaukee clinched a playoff berth despite having nine of the team's top 12 scorers recalled to Nashville or traded in the final 20 games of the regular season.

Evason was named the 20th coach in Milwaukee Admirals history on June 19, 2012 after spending seven seasons as an assistant coach with the Washington Capitals, helping them claim four straight Southeast Division titles, reach the Stanley Cup Playoffs five straight years (2008-12) and win the 2010 President's Trophy. In his time as an assistant in Washington from 2005-12, the Capitals compiled a 294-206-74 record (.577). Evason's responsibilities included faceoffs – helping the Caps finish among the NHL's Top 10 five times – the penalty kill – which finished as high as second in the League under his watch (2010-11) – while also being in charge of the team's forwards.

Prior to joining the Capitals, Evason spent six seasons as a head coach in the Western Hockey League. He began his coaching career with the Kamloops Blazers – where his roster included Predators 2002 first-round pick Scottie Upshall – compiling a 109-83-17 record in three seasons from 1999-2002. Evason moved on to guide the Vancouver Giants to back-to-back playoff appearances in 2002-03 and 2003-04, before co-coaching the Calgary Hitmen to a 34-23-9-6 record in 2004-05 on a team that included NHL stars Andrew Ladd and Ryan Getzlaf.

Washington's third selection, 89th overall (third round), in the 1982 Entry Draft, Evason amassed 372 points (139g-233a) and 1,002 penalty minutes in 803 NHL games with the Capitals, Hartford Whalers, San Jose Sharks, Dallas Stars and Calgary Flames from 1983-96. This included a pair of seasons playing under then-Washington General Manager David Poile (1983-85) and three seasons as a teammate of Predators Assistant General Manager Paul Fenton in both the Hartford (1984-86) and San Jose (1991-92) organizations. He served as a player/coach for Team Canada during the 1996-97 season, captaining the team to a gold medal at the 1997 World Championship. He wound down his career as a player/coach with Landshut of the German League in 1997-98 and 1998-99.

A native of Flin Flon, Man., Evason is an honored member of the Manitoba Hockey Hall of Fame. He has three children – Bryce, Brianne and Brooke.

STAN DRULIA ASSISTANT COACH

Stan Drulia enters his fourth full season as an assistant coach for the Milwaukee Admirals in 2014-15 where his responsibilities include running the defensive corps, heading up the penalty kill, pre-scouting the opposition and improving the team's face-off efficiency. Named to the position on Dec. 5, 2011, has helped the Admirals clinch Calder Cup Playoff berths in three of his first four seasons behind the bench while helping develop Nashville's top prospects including Filip Forsberg, Mattias Ekholm, Ryan Ellis and Craig Smith. Each of the last two seasons, the Admirals roster has contained only six regulars over the age of 25, and in his first full season as an assistant in 2012-13, Drulia helped guide Milwaukee to the playoffs despite having to use 12 blueliners, and seeing nine of the team's top 12 scorers recalled or traded away during the campaign.

Prior to joining Milwaukee, Drulia served as head coach for the ECHL's Wheeling Nailers, compiling a 49-35-5 record. During his last full season with the Nailers in 2010-11, the Fort Erie, Ont., native led the club to a 38-29-5 record and a spot in the Eastern Conference Final. Eighteen players from the squad saw promotions to the American Hockey League during the course of the season.

Drulia spent four seasons in Port Huron from 2006-10, one with the United Hockey League's Flags, and three with the International Hockey League's Icehawks. In his three seasons at the IHL level, Drulia amassed a 132-75-21 record. In 2007-08, he guided the Icehawks to a 41-29-6 record, then to the Turner Cup Final where they fell in a Game Seven overtime. In 2008-09, Drulia led Port Huron to a 44-21-11 mark and was named IHL Coach of the Year.

Prior to one season as an assistant with the Toledo Storm (ECHL) in 2005-06, Drulia served as head coach of the ECHL's Augusta Lynx (2003-05), and in his only year as the head coach of the Orlando Seals of the Atlantic Coast Hockey League in 2002-03, he guided the club to the league title, earning ACHL Coach of the Year honors.

Pittsburgh's 11th selection, 214th overall (11th round), in the 1986 Entry Draft, Drulia played 13 professional seasons from 1989-2001, including 126 NHL games with the Tampa Bay Lightning (15g-27a-42pts). He won two Turner Cups as IHL champions in 1994 with the Atlanta Knights and in 1997 with the Detroit Vipers, and was the recipient of the N.R. "Bud" Poile award – named after Predators GM David Poile's father – as IHL Playoff MVP on two occasions (1994 and 1999). Drulia posted three 100-plus point seasons - he won the scoring title and was ECHL MVP with the Knoxville Cherokees in 1990-91 (63g-77a-140pts), ranked second in goals and third in points with both the AHL's New Haven Nighthawks in 1991-92 (49g-53a-102pts), and the Knights in 1993-94 (54g-60a-114pts). In total, he accumulated 823 points (366g-457a) in 671 minor league games.

Before turning pro, Drulia amassed 479 points (198g-281a) in 296 Ontario Hockey League games with Belleville, Hamilton and Niagara Falls from 1984-89 – a league point record that still stands today.

Stan and his wife Shar have a daughter, Shawn, and a son, Trevor.

Led Gatineau in points during the postseason, and ranked second on the team in the category during the 2014-15 regular season... Played in the 2015 CHL Top Prospects Game... The 48th-ranked North American Skater in Central Scouting Services final rankings of 2015... Selected 32nd overall (first round), by Gatineau in the 2014 Canadian Hockey League Import Draft... Helped Belye Medvedi Chelyabinsk finish third overall in Russia's junior league during the 2013-14 season... Hails from the same hometown as Sergei Gonchar, Evgeny Kuznetsov, Sergei Makarov and Valeri Nichushkin.

SCOUTING REPORT: A tremendously talented two-way center... His hockey sense is very high, he plays responsibly, and he does all of the little things well... Offensively, has great creativity, vision, and skills. Impressive hands for a player of his size. He can be a scorer or passer... Defensively, he uses his size, powerful skating, and long reach to frustrate the opposing team.

QUOTEBOOK: "He's a big center, who plays a solid two-way game. Despite coming from Russia as a 17-year-old who didn't speak a word of English, he averaged more than a point per game and was fantastic defensively, especially in the playoffs when he was used on the power play, killing penalties, five-on-three and three-on-five. I see him as a complete, top-two center that can put points on the board and the coaches will love to have because he can play in any situation." - Predators North American Amateur Scout J-P Glaude.

Led Team Southeast in points (11g-22a-33pts) in 2013-14.

SCOUTING REPORT: Plays with a great deal of offensive flair. Is a natural with the puck – he stickhandles with finesse and is agile and evasive on his skates... His vision, instincts, and talent will be especially noticeable on the power play... He may be a pass-first player in the NHL, but when he chooses to shoot he's got a great release.

QUOTEBOOK: "Thomas Novak is a good skating, skilled offensive center. He really sees the ice well; he's got great offensive instincts. He makes plays and he can also shoot the puck. He's a pass-first guy but he also has a good shot off a quick release. He is coming from a good program with a good coach who has been there for many years and he really helps develop kids." - Predators North American Amateur Scout David Westby QUOTEBOOK: "He's a fast, feisty player, but it doesn't matter because of the way he skates. He's an offensive elite guy. Creates turnovers, whether through body contact or stick positioning... Isn't flashy on offense, but gets the puck to his forwards effectively, and knows the right times to jump into the rush to create chances.

QUOTEBOOK: "He's really built as a defenseman for the way the game is played today. He's a very good skater, he's great on his edges, and he's got terrific hockey sense. He moves the puck real well, he can get up in the offense and he can play defensively. He's not the biggest guy but he uses that sense and instinct to defend with his stick and his angles. He's got all sorts of character and leadership. He's the captain of the team in Gatineau, plays huge minutes in all situations so we just think he's going to get better and better. Helped the Chicago Fury claim the Illinois State 18 AAA Championship in 2011-12... His father, Randy, played collegiately at Western Michigan University, while his uncle, Rodger, played at Michigan Tech.

SCOUTING REPORT: A versatile player who has played center, wing, and even defense in power-play situations... Plays an honest, physical game... Generates his offense by being in the right spot at the right times - has a knack for finding the scoring areas... A real smart, two-way, big player that can skate... Moves the puck well, and knows how to use his body to shield and protect.

QUOTEBOOK: "Tyler is a solid, two-way centerman that we feel is ready to take off. He had a great year in 2014-15 so we're just looking for more improvement for him during his junior season at Harvard. He is a late bloomer who is still developing physically, but you can already rely on him in a lot of different situations. With the way the NHL is going, you have to have your centers. Tyler can win draws, can play on the penalty kill or the power play. He actually quarterbacks the power play so we think there is a lot of opportunity for him." - North American Amateur Scout Tom Nolan.

Ranked fifth in both goals-against average (1.57) and save percentage (.929) with Pikes Peak Miners 16U during the 2013 postseason.

SCOUTING REPORT: A towering netminder who is a student of the game... His size allows him to cover a huge portion of the net, and minimizes the amount of room that shooters can see when he comes out of his net to challenge them... Very competitive, focused and mentally strong... His ice awareness is good and kind of moves into pucks well because of his size.

QUOTEBOOK: "For his size, Evan is an athletic kid that moves well and covers a lot of the net. He's got to fill into his body and keep working on his game, but he's got a huge upside. He's drafted by Victoria in the Western Hockey League so his plan is to go there next year and compete for the starting job." - North American Amateur Scout Ryan Rezmierski.

HOME-ICE ADVANTAGE

The Preds ended the 2014-15 regular season with 12 consecutive sell-out crowds (17,113), pushing the season sellout total to 30 games, a franchise record for sellouts in a single season. On the season, a franchise-record 691,028 fans watched a hockey game at Bridgestone Arena, including 17,401 on Dec. 30, 2014 against St. Louis, the single-game hockey attendance record for the building. The Arena averaged 16,854 fans in attendance (98.5 percent), which is second only to the shortened season of 2012-13.

Nashville's 28-9-4 record on Bridgestone Arena ice was one of the best in the League throughout the 2014-15 regular season and the 60 home points stand as third most in franchise history. The home record contained two home winning streaks of six games or more and a franchise-record nine-game home winning streak from Dec. 16, 2014-Feb. 3, 2015.

BEHIND THE BENCH

David Poile hired Peter Laviolette as the second head coach in Nashville Predators history on May 6, 2014, beginning a season of changes in the Music City. In addition to hiring Laviolette who, at the start of the 2014-15 season was one of just eight men currently employed as an NHL head coach to have won a Stanley Cup, Poile acquired James Neal and brought in veteran players like Mike Ribeiro and Anton Volchenkov.

After winning his first two games as head coach of the Preds (career wins 390 and 391), Laviolette passed Hall of Famer Fred Shero for 32nd on the all-time NHL win's as head coach list, and on Nov. 15 vs. Winnipeg, won his 400th career game. Over the course of the season, Laviolette, who was named one of three finalists for the Jack Adams Award, coached the Preds to a 47-25-10 record (104 points), which is nine more wins and 16 more points than the team finished with a season ago. He implemented an offensive strategy in Nashville that increased the team's goals per game to 2.76, up from 2.61 last season, and 31.9 shots per game, third in the NHL.

Nashville's win on Dec. 16 versus Boston was the 1,171st win for Poile as an NHL general manager, allowing him to pass Harry Sinden for second on the NHL all-time wins list. In addition to his place on the League's all-time wins list, Poile ranks second in all-time games as a general manager and is the third-longest tenured general manager in League history at 33 full seasons (1982-83 to 2014-15) in the position, serving with both the Washington Capitals and the Preds.

FAST START

Nashville tied for the fewest games in franchise history to 10 wins (15), 20 wins (30) and set franchise records for both fewest games to 30 wins (43) and to 40 wins (60). It was not until Games 62 and 63 (Feb. 26 vs. Minnesota, Feb. 28 vs. Detroit) that the Preds lost back-to-back games in regulation.

After moving into third place in the NHL's Western Conference on Dec. 23, the Preds did not move below that mark for the remainder of the regular season. This includes a stretch from Jan. 4 to March 13 where the team was either in first or second in the West.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT

After a disappointing 2013-14, the Predators rallied to improve in countless statistical categories in 2014-15.

BREAK IT DOWN BY DIVISION

Overall this season, the Predators recorded a 15-9-5 record against their own Central Division, which, with five playoff-bound teams and all seven teams finishing over .500, is one of the League's toughest. The 2014-15 record stands as a drastic improvement over last season's 12-13-4 record against intra-divisional foes.

- Against the Pacific, Nashville finished 12-6-3.
- The Preds recorded a perfect 3-0-0 record against the defending Stanley Cup Champion Los Angeles Kings.
- Went 2-0-1 against the playoff-bound Vancouver Canucks.

Against the Eastern Conference, Nashville finished with a 20-10-2 record.

- The Preds went 11-4-1 against the Atlantic Division.
- Nashville recorded a 9-6-1 record versus the Metropolitan Division.
- Tallied perfect 2-0-0 records against top teams in the East in the Tampa Bay Lightning and Washington Capitals.

WELCOME TO THE CLUB

On June 27, 2014, the Predators acquired forward James Neal from the Pittsburgh Penguins. On Oct. 23, 2014 against Chicago, Neal tallied his fifth career hat trick in Nashville's 3-2 win over the Chicago Blackhawks. Despite missing 15 games during the regular season due to injury, Neal tied for second on the Preds in goals (23), six of which were game-winning goals, matching his career high in the category.

A little more than two weeks after the Preds traded for Neal, the team signed veteran center Mike Ribeiro on July 15, 2014. On his way to becoming the first Nashville skater to record 60 points since the 2008-09 season, Ribeiro tallied 47 assists, a Preds record for most assists in a season by a center and a total that put him in the Top 15 among all NHL players.

The Predators made one final deal in 2014-15 when they acquired Cody Franson and Mike Santorelli from the Toronto Maple Leafs on Feb. 15. Both Franson and Santorelli were drafted by the Predators and spent time playing for the team earlier in their careers. Franson finished the season in the Top 20 among all NHL blueliners in power-play points (5g-12a-17pts) and hits (177).

FORSBERG BREAKS PREDS ROOKIE RECORDS

Filip Forsberg, who was acquired via trade from Washington in 2013, played his first full NHL season in 2014-15, appearing in all 82 of Nashville's regular-season games and taking the ice in his 100th career NHL game on April 11 in Dallas.

Over the course of the season, Forsberg recorded 15 multi-point games on his way to leading Nashville in points (26g-37a-63pts) and setting the Nashville record for points in a season by a first-year player. He is one of just 14 rookies since 2000-01 to record 62 or more points in a season, the first rookie in Preds history to score 20 or more goals and the fifth youngest player in NHL history to lead a playoff-bound team in scoring. Among other first-year players, Forsberg finished the season leading in shots (237) and game-winning goals (tied, 6) and was in the Top Five in points (63), goals (26), assists (37), power-play goals (6) and power-play points (19).

The Ostervalla, Sweden native recorded 17 points (7g-10a) in the season's first 20 games and set the franchise record for consecutive games with a point by a rookie (7) when he tallied 13 points (7g-6a) from Oct. 31-Nov. 13, 2014. In the midst of his seven-game point streak, Forsberg recorded goals in six straight games (Nov. 2-13, 2014).

Forsberg received accolades League-wide for his accomplishments, earning the NHL's Third Star of the Week (Nov. 16) after tallying two multi-point games and five points (2g-3a) in three games played. He was also named the League's November Rookie of the Month.

In January, Forsberg was named to the YoungStars portion of the NHL's All-Star Game, but later became the first rookie named to participate in the All-Star Game. In the All-Star Game, Forsberg became the first Preds player to score in the contest, tallying two goals for his team.

- The Predators tied their franchise record for most goals scored in a game (9) in a 9-2 win over the Toronto Maple Leafs at the Air Canada Centre on Nov. 18, 2014. Nashville's seven-goal margin of victory in the contest tied for the second largest in team history and tied for the largest margin of victory in a road game.
- Eight of Nashville's 14 extra-time wins this season were decided in overtime, a single-season franchise record and mark that tied for second in the NHL. Nashville's 14 wins in overtime or a shootout this season were the second most in the League in the category.
- Nashville's 30 wins in one-goal games (30-7-10) were second in the League.
- Of the Preds' 82 games this season, there were only eight games where a member of the team's blue line did not record at least a point (2-5-1, four of five regulation losses were shutouts).
- Nashville's winning percentage (.644) when outshooting its opponent was second in the NHL (18-12-5).
- The Preds averaged 31.9 shots per game, third in the League.
- Nashville was third in the League in goals for/against ratio when five-on-five (1.26).
- Finished the season a +34 in five-on-five play (168-133), a 55-goal improvement on last season's -21 in even-strength situations (155-176).

DYNAMIC DUO

Nashville's top defensive pairing of Shea Weber and Roman Josi consistently were among the League's top defensive players. Weber and Josi combined for 100 points during the season, finishing 1-2 in scoring among Preds blueliners and 1-2 in average time on ice among all Nashville skaters. The pair finished 4-5 in Norris Trophy voting in 2014-15, the only teammates in the votings Top 10.

Weber, who served as Nashville's captain for the fifth consecutive season, tallied 45 (15g-30a) or more points for the fifth time in his NHL career, ranking him second among Preds blueliners and in the Top 15 defensemen League wide. Of his 15 goals, which tied him for sixth among NHL defensemen, four were scored when the Preds were down by one (to tie the game) and nine were scored in a tie game (to give Nashville the lead). While leading one of the NHL's youngest defensive corps (23.8 years of age), Weber finished in the Top 25 among League defensemen in blocked shots (147) and hits (166).

Josi finished the 2014-15 season with 55 points (15g-40a), putting him in the record books with the second most prolific points season by a Preds defensemen in franchise history (Weber, 23g-33a-56pts in 2013-14) and with the second-most assists by a blueliner in team history. Josi's 55 points this season surpassed his previous high of 40 (13g-27a, set in 2013-14) and led Nashville blueliners in the category. Josi blocked 209 shots, the second most of any NHL player this season.

RINNE RETURNS TO FORM

Goaltender Pekka Rinne returned to form in 2014-15, the season after missing significant time due to a hip infection, finishing the season with 41 wins (tied for second in the NHL) and among the League leaders in goals-against average (2.18) and save percentage (.923). Nashville's nominee for the 2015 Masterton Trophy and one of three finalists for the 2015 Vezina trophy, Rinne recorded two six-game winning streaks and recorded four shutouts during the regular season.

On March 14 in Los Angeles, Rinne made 23 saves to record his 200th career NHL victory in his 370th career appearance, all of which have been as a member of the Nashville Predators. Against the Rangers on Feb. 7, the Kempele, Finland native became the fastest (in terms of games played) goaltender to record 30 wins (39 games played) since the NHL adopted the shootout in 2005-06 and just the third goalie in the NHL's expansion era to tally 30 wins in 39 games or less.

Rinne was recognized League-wide three times during the regular season for his play; he received the NHL's Third Star of the Month in November (10-1-0, 1.70 goals-against average, .938 save percentage) and the NHL's Third Star of the Week for the week ending Feb. 14 (stopped 83-of-87 shots faced and went 3-0-0). He was also one of three Predators players selected to represent the Preds at the 2015 NHL All-Star festivities, but was unable to participate due to injury.

20-GOAL SCORERS

Nashville finished the season with four 20-goal scorers in James Neal, Filip Forsberg, Craig Smith and Colin Wilson, two shy of the franchise-record six that the team had in 2006-07 and the most it has had since 2007-08 (also four). Both Smith and Wilson were drafted and developed by the team, marking the first time the Preds have had two homegrown 20-goal scorers in a single season.

Smith, the third player to hit the 20-goal mark on the season, reached the 20-goal plateau for the second year in a row. In 2013-14, Smith tallied his 20th goal in his 77th game, but this season, achieved the mark in his 62nd game, a 15-game improvement.

- Paul Gaustad led the team and was in the NHL's Top 10 in face-off percentage (56.4 percent).
- Gaustad recorded Nashville's lone "Gordie Howe Hat Trick" (one goal, one assist and one fight) of the season on Oct. 11 against Dallas.
- Matt Cullen became the oldest Preds player in franchise history (38 years, 23 days) when he played on Nov. 25 against Los Angeles.

On his way to a career-high 41 points (20g-21a), Wilson eclipsed the 20-goal mark for the first time in his career, besting his previous high of 16 (2010-11). The Greenwich, Conn., native finished the season with five game-winning goals and led Nashville in "Frosty Goals" (fourth goal of the game, clinching Wendy's Frostys for all fans in attendance) this season (3).

HOME GROWN D

During the 2014-15 season, seven of the 10 defensemen to patrol the Preds' blue line were drafted by the organization. Victor Bartley and Anton Volchenkov (free agents), and Joe Piskula (trade), were the only other Preds defensemen from this season that were not drafted by the team. Anthony Bitetto, who played seven games as an injury call-up, was drafted by the team in 2010 and recorded regular minutes with Milwaukee (AHL) during the 2014-15 season.

The six remaining defensemen: Shea Weber (2003), Cody Franson (2005), Roman Josi (2008), Ryan Ellis and Mattias Ekholm (2009) and Seth Jones (2013) represent 10 years of Predators draft picks and include two first-rounders, two second-round picks, a third and a fourth rounder. The unit's 55 goals was first in the NHL in 2014-15, while its 193 points ranked second only to Calgary's defensive corps.

Five of the 10 defensemen put up career numbers this season:

- Josi's 55 points (15g-40a) this season surpassed his previous high of 40 (13g-27a, set in 2013-14)
- Jones set a career high with 27 points (8g-19a) during the season.
- Ellis set a career high in goals (9) and his 27 points (9g-18a) tied the career high he first set in 2013-14.
- Ekholm recorded 18 points (7g-11a) during the regular season, improving on his previous career-high nine points (1g-8a) set during his rookie season in 2013-14.
- With 10 assists, Bartley set a career high in the points category.

ROOKIE DEBUTS

Four players made their NHL debuts over the course of the 2014-15 season. Two of the four players to make their NHL debuts in 2014-15 – Viktor Arvidsson and Kevin Fiala – were drafted by the Preds in 2014, marking only the second time in Predators franchise history that two players made their NHL debuts the year after they were drafted (David Legwand and Karlis Skrastins in 1998-99) and the first time in club history that the two players dressed in the same game (March 24 vs. Montreal).

Arvidsson and Fiala were the fifth and sixth members of the 2014 Draft class to play in the NHL (Aaron Ekblad (FLA), first overall; Sam Reinhart (BUF), second overall; Leon Draisaitl (EDM), third overall and David Pastrnak (BOS), 25th overall.

- Miikka Salomaki (52nd overall, second round, 2011 Draft) played his first NHL game against Dallas on Jan. 8 and became the first player to ever skate for Nashville wearing the number 67. Sixteen minutes and 47 seconds into the second period of his NHL debut, Salomaki tallied his first career NHL goal.
- On Jan. 17 at Detroit, defenseman Anthony Bitetto (168th overall, sixth round, 2010 Draft) played his first NHL game. Bitetto went on to play seven games at the NHL level in 2014-15, recording nine hits, three blocked shots and two shots in 11:46 average time on ice.
- Arvidsson (112th overall, fourth round, 2014 Draft) skated in his first NHL game on March 21 in Buffalo. A 2015 AHL All-Rookie Team member with Milwaukee (AHL) this season, Arvidsson tallied nine shots and averaged 10:15 time on ice in six NHL games.
- Nashville's 2014 first-round selection (11th overall) Fiala made his NHL debut on March 24 against Montreal. In his first NHL game, Fiala skated 11:25 and tallied three shots, two takeaways and a blocked shot.

PLAYOFF NOTES
2015 WESTERN CONFERENCE QUARTERFINALS

HOW SWEDE IT IS
After making his playoff debut in Game One and becoming the youngest player (20 years, 247 days) in Preds history to score a postseason goal in Game Two, Filip Forsberg scored three in Game Five to become the first Nashville skater to ever tally a postseason hat trick. The Ostervalla, Sweden native was the fourth rookie in the past 70 years to score three goals in a playoff game in which his team was facing elimination and the third player in the last four years to post a playoff hat trick prior to his 21st birthday.

Forsberg's hat trick in Game Five was the centerpiece of his six playoff points (4g-2a), leading the team and setting the franchise record for most goals and points by a Nashville rookie in a playoff series.

WILSON SETS THE PACE
Colin Wilson, who opened the scoring for the Preds in their 2015 Western Conference Quarterfinal series with his goal 6:07 into Game One, led Nashville in goals (5) and set a franchise record for goals by a Preds player in a single postseason series. In addition to his playoff opener, Wilson tallied the first goal of the game in Games Two and Four and the game winner in Game Five. Four of Wilson's five goals were power-play tallies, tying Shea Weber for the most power-play goals in a series in Preds playoff history.

Both Craig Smith and Filip Forsberg set franchise shots records; Smith for most by a player in a single series (33) and Forsberg for most by a rookie (22). Defenseman Roman Josi tied the team record for most shots by a blueliner in Preds postseason history (21).

MEDIA RELATIONS

PRESS INFORMATION
Inquiries about the Predators may be directed to Gerry Helper (ghelper@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2344), Kevin Wilson (kwilson@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2335) or Greg Ramirez (gramirez@nashvillepredators.com; 615-770-2347) of the club's communications department.

CREDENTIALS
Season passes are issued to those members of the media who regularly cover the Nashville Predators. These passes will be honored for entrance to Bridgestone Arena and all working areas for all 2015-16 regular-season home games. Single-game credentials must be submitted by email on company letterhead to Kevin Wilson (kwilson@nashvillepredators.com) by 10 a.m. CT on the day prior to the game in question. Press box space is limited; for this reason, the Predators cannot guarantee credentials to those members of the media who request such passes after the deadline.

Credentials will be issued only to representatives of legitimate news-gathering agencies and websites. They will be confiscated if worn by members of the media whose names do not appear on the credential. Only credentialed members of the media are allowed to sit in the press box.

MEDIA ENTRANCE
All credentialed media may enter through the employee entrance of Bridgestone Arena under the black awning on Sixth Avenue near the Grand Avenue Garage. Credentials are also available at this entrance on game nights, which will be open three hours prior to face-off. Practices at the arena and morning skates are accessible through the Patron Platinum Club Entrance on Fifth Avenue (facing the Hilton Suites hotel).

PHOTOGRAPHERS
Accredited photographers may receive location assignments from team photographer John Russell (john.a.russell@vanderbilt.edu) on game nights or in advance via email. In accordance to NHL Images policies and procedures, freelance photographers and roving passes are not permitted.

PRESS BOX & RADIO/TV BOOTHS
The Bridgestone Arena press box is located in sections 310 (television and radio broadcasts), 311 (home and visiting beat writers) and 312 (local TV crews, scouts, other media), and can be reached from the event level by taking the elevators/freight elevator near the Zamboni entrance to Level 4. Proceed to your left out of the elevators, and the press box is three sections down.

WIRELESS INTERNET SERVICE
Wireless internet is available to media throughout Bridgestone Arena. The password can be attained through the Predators communications staff. For technical assistance, please contact Casey Millar (cmillar@nashvillepredators.com; 615-238-7143).

2015-16 NASHVILLE PREDATORS MEDIA GUIDE
The Nashville Predators 2015-16 media guide is available for download on the Predators Pressbox page, or at nashvillepredators.com/mediaguide.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS PRESSBOX PAGE
NashvillePredators.com/Pressbox is a media resource page which contains team publications; in-game and postgame notes, quotes and audio files; online news links; daily stats reports and game notes; and other valuable information. Access to the site is available through the Predators communications department.

PRE-GAME INTERVIEWS
Media interviews are available outside the Predators' dressing room up to 90 minutes before each game by special request. Writers, television and radio stations seeking live or taped pregame interviews must request the coach or player and state the specific interview time to Predators communications representative AT OR BEFORE the game-day skate.

POSTGAME
Head Coach Peter Laviolette will be available in the event-level media lounge for his postgame press conference following each home game. The Predators' dressing room will open no later than 10 minutes following the conclusion of the game. In the event of a team meeting, the room will open at the conclusion of the meeting. Transcriptions of both head coaches' postgame availabilities, as well as various Predators and visitors player quotes from the locker room will be distributed to the media in a timely manner following each home game. The freight elevator outside section 312 & 313 will make two express trips to the event level immediately following the game.

MEDIA WORK ROOMS
Work space and media dining are available in the media lounge/workroom on the event level's south side between the Zamboni tunnel and visitor's dressing room. These rooms open three hours before the opening face-off. There is a second media lounge adjacent to sections 310 and 311. Statistics, beverages and snacks will be available in the upper lounge during intermissions. Credentials must be displayed at all times to gain access to all media areas.

PRACTICE SESSIONS
Locker rooms will open no later than 10 minutes after the conclusion of practice. In the event of a team meeting, the room will open at the conclusion of the meeting.

BETWEEN-PERIOD TV INTERVIEWS
Requests are to be made before or during the morning skate. A communications representative will be on hand to assist with all requests.

OFF-LIMITS
The medical room, players' lounge and shower/lavatory areas are closed to all media. The main locker room will be open to the media. Media are not permitted to enter the coaches' offices unless escorted by a member of the Predators communications department.

INJURY REPORTS

Ford Ice Center, which opened for public use in August 2014, was built as a provision of the June 2012 lease agreement between the city of Nashville and Bridgestone Arena. A component of the public-private partnership between Metro and the Nashville Predators, Ford Ice Center was built to help continue the growth of hockey and skating in Middle Tennessee. The facility's central location helps generate local economic development, which in turn increases the demand for nearby lodging, dining, shopping and entertainment.

Located in Antioch at the Global Mall at the Crossings, Ford Ice Center houses two sheets of ice, eight locker rooms, four party rooms and more. With the addition of Ford Ice Center's two sheets of ice, Middle Tennessee now boasts six community sheets of ice, providing an opportunity for players of all levels and ages more opportunities to participate in hockey and ice skating.

In addition to housing the Predators Youth Hockey initiatives like Get Out and Learn! (G.O.A.L!), Ford Ice Center is home to the Scott Hamilton Skating Academy. Hamilton, a longtime Franklin, Tennessee, resident and Olympic Gold Medalist, helps develop curriculum, make staffing decisions for the Academy and more.

Nearly half-a-million guests have visited Ford Ice Center in its first year of existence, including youth and adult hockey players, "Learn to Skate" and public skating participants, friends and family. Since hosting the Nashville Predators Rookie Tournament in September 2014 (with the Florida Panthers, Tampa Bay Lightning and Boston Bruins), Ford Ice Center has hosted several nation-wide USA Hockey adult rec-league tournaments and skating showcases in addition to local and regional events.

The Thomas Frist Centennial Sportsplex is operated by the Metro Board of Parks and Recreation in Nashville. The facility was made possible by a landmark land exchange between Metro Parks and healthcare provider Hospital Corporation of America (HCA). The city exchanged 10 prime acres adjacent to Centennial Park for $12 million. The money was used to build the Sportsplex. During the summer of 2014, the ice arena at Centennial Sportsplex underwent major renovations, including replacing the ice coolant systems and installing new dasher boards and glass at Rink B.

The $20 million, 145,000 square-foot Sportsplex features a tennis center, a fitness center, an aquatics center and two full-size ice rinks. The aquatics center, named after Olympian Tracy Caulkins, has been the site of numerous U.S. Senior and Junior National Swim Meets, the YMCA National Swim Meet and, to date, still holds one of the fastest times ever swam for the men's 50-meter freestyle, set in the inaugural swim meet in February 1990 by Olympian Tom Jager.

The ice arena is home to the Nashville Predators' practice facility which opened on February 1, 1999. The building holds offices for Predators coaching staff and hockey operations department, a full dressing room, weight room and athletic training wing.

In addition, Centennial Sportsplex hosts adult hockey leagues, figure skating, numerous public sessions, figure skating competitions, ice shows, hockey tournaments and camps. In 1997, it was one of the sites for the USFSA National Championships.

Centennial Sportsplex offers instructional classes in skating, swimming and tennis, as well as public usage in each of those areas. The ice arena and aquatic area also offers special rates for parties, schools and group events. HOW TO FIGURE

Assist: An assist is awarded to the player or players (maximum of two) who touched the puck prior to the goal, provided no defender plays or possesses the puck in between.

Game played: A player receives credit for playing in a game if: i) he steps on the ice during time played or; ii) serves any penalty.

Game-winning goal: After the final score has been determined, the goal which leaves the winning club one goal ahead of its opponent is the game-winning goal (example: if Team A beats Team B 8-3, the player scoring the fourth goal for Team A receives credit for the game-winning goal).

Goal: A goal is awarded to the last player on the scoring club to touch the puck prior to the puck entering the net.

Goals-against average: Multiply goals allowed (GA) by 60 and divide by minutes played (MINS).

Goaltender: A goaltender receives a "W" for a win in regulation, overtime or shootout; an "L" for a loss in regulation; or an "OT" for a loss in overtime or shootout.

Penalty-killing pct.: Subtract total number of power-play goals allowed from total number of shorthanded situations to get total number of power-plays killed. Divide the total number of power-plays killed by the total number of shorthanded situations.

Plus-minus: A player receives a "plus" if he is on the ice when his club scores an even-strength or shorthanded goal. He receives a "minus" if he is on the ice for an even-strength or shorthanded goal scored by the opposing club. The difference in these numbers is considered the player's plus-minus statistic.

Power-play goal: A goal scored by a club while it has a manpower advantage due to an opponent's penalty. Following are some examples of what is and is not considered a power-play goal:

If a club has an advantage on a minor penalty starting at 2:02 of the period and it scores at 4:02, the goal is not a power-play goal.

- if a club scores on a delayed penalty, the goal is not a power-play goal.
- if a club has an advantage due to a five-minute major or match penalty, that club is always credited with having one more advantage than the number of power-play goals it scores during that advantage, because the penalty does not expire. A new advantage begins after each power-play goal. For example, if Team A scores three goals during a major penalty, it is credited with four advantages.
- if a club is on a power-play for any length of time, it is considered to have had an advantage.
- if a minor penalty is incurred by a club on a power-play due to a major penalty, a new advantage is given to that club when its minor penalty expires, provided the opponent's major penalty is still in effect.

Power-play percentage: Total number of power-play goals divided by total number of power-play opportunities.

Save percentage: Subtract goals allowed (GA) from shots against (SA) to determine saves. Then divide saves by shots-against.

Shooting percentage: Divide the number of goals scored by the number of shots taken.

Shorthanded goal: A goal scored by a club while it is at a manpower disadvantage. The same cases apply for shorthanded as for power-play goals, but in the opposite manner.

Shot on goal: If a player shoots the puck with the intention of scoring and if that shot would have gone in the net had the goaltender not stopped it, the shot is recorded as a "shot on goal."

Shutout: If two goaltenders combine for a shutout, neither receives credit for the shutout. Instead it is recorded as a club shutout.

Tenths of a second: If a penalty or goal occurs in the last minute, the time is rounded off to the previous second (ex: if a penalty is called with 12.4 seconds left in a period, the time is indicated as 19:47 and not 19:48.)

Coaches' record: A coach receives a "W" for a win in regulation, overtime or shootout; an "L" for a loss in regulation; or an "OT" for a loss in overtime or shootout.

 NOTE: No individual skater/goaltender statistics apply for the shootout

NAME, LOGO & SWEATERS

The Predators unveiled their logo, a saber-toothed tiger, in Nashville's downtown First American Center on September 25, 1997, 26 years after a fang and foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger were found in a cave just below the building's address. In May of 1971, excavation began at the downtown Nashville site of what today is the 28-story Regions Center. Further digging revealed a cave containing the nine-inch fang and a foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger, extinct for at least 10,000 years. Radiocarbon tests on revealed that it could have possibly been one of the last of its breed to exist. Scientists believe that some time during the last glacial period (15,000-80,000 years ago) part of the cave was the den of the saber-toothed tiger.

The discovery, made in August 1971, marked only the fifth of its kind in North America.

The saber-toothed tiger logo was co-designed by JDK Design of Burlington, Vermont and Dye, Van Mol & Lawrence of Nashville.

The naming of the Predators was a direct reflection of the fans of Nashville and their choice.

During the public events and through focus groups and related surveys, fans selected the name "Predators" by a two-to-one margin over the second choice. On Nov. 13, 1997, the saber-toothed tiger logo was unveiled for the first time with the Predators insignia attached to it. On Feb. 12, 1998, then-Head Coach Barry Trotz and Assistant Coach Paul Gardner unveiled the Predators' inaugural home and away jerseys at Cool Springs Galleria.

On Nov. 21, 2001, the Predators debuted a third jersey with a 4-3 win against the Chicago Blackhawks at Bridgestone Arena. The jersey featured an "animated" saber-tooth tiger logo on the crest and tiger skulls on the shoulders. It was retired following the 2006-07 season.

For the 2007-08 season, the Predators, along with the other 29 NHL teams, introduced the Rbk EDGE Uniform System to further meet the performance demands of today's player.

The Predators would debut a new third jersey on Nov. 27, 2009 against the St. Louis Blues. The sweaters, which features a vintage-inspired lace-up front, a subtle checkerboard pattern lining the bottom of the jersey, and a bolder and more simplified color scheme, were worn for two seasons.

The logo and uniforms for the 2011-12 season were designed to develop a powerful, long-term brand message and help infuse new life into the Nashville Predators imagery and brand with a more contemporary, aggressive, streamlined logo that still maintains the basic Pred Head concept. A new secondary logo was also designed to represent the state flag of Tennessee and Nashville's Music City heritage simultaneously, with a guitar pick shape incorporating the three stars of the state's three grand divisions – West, Middle and East. The "Predators Gold" sweaters create a distinctive, dominant, bold look that balances traditional elements of classic uniforms, with those unique to Nashville – guitar strings in the numbering and lettering, fangs in the neck area and piano keys on the inside of the collars.

NASHVILLE HOCKEY HISTORY

In the spring of 1962, a small group of businessmen led by David Patterson put up $125,000 to place a team in the Eastern Hockey League. The Dixie Flyers, named after a passenger train said to be the oldest in the South, were placed in the nine-team league. The purple-and-gold colored Flyers played their first regular-season home game (a 2-0 loss to Knoxville) on Oct. 27, 1962 at the Municipal Auditorium. The Flyers endured a rough opening season, winning 16 games and qualifying for the playoffs, only to be swept in three games by Greensboro. However, it didn't take long for the Flyers to make their presence felt.

After losing in the 1965 Finals, the Flyers went on to win EHL Walker Cup championships in 1966 and 1967, the only two professional ice hockey titles in the city's history. John McLellan, who went on to coach the Toronto Maple Leafs, coached the Flyers. The Flyers swept each of their three playoff series' in 1966. They won the championship by going 11-0 in the playoffs and becoming the first team in minor league ice hockey ever to march through the playoffs undefeated.

In 1967, Patterson's group sold the team to a business group headed by Mark Parrish. The Cinderella '69 team reached the Finals, but lost in seven tough games to the Clinton (N.Y.) Comets in the Walker Cup Finals. Shortly after, the Flyers' attendance slipped dramatically. Barely able to scrape up enough funds to start the 1970-71 campaign, the Flyers folded following the season.

Hockey returned to Nashville when baseball guru Larry Schmittou, who brought minor league baseball back to Nashville in 1978 after a 15-year absence, did the same for hockey in July 1981. Thus the South Stars were founded, a team that played in the Central Hockey League and had the Minnesota North Stars as its NHL affiliate. The logo was a hockey player swinging a guitar representing the Music City while using yellow, orange and green.

The 1981-82 team finished fourth in its division and lost to Wichita, 3-0, in the first round of the playoffs. Gene Ubriaco, who went on to coach the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins and 1992 Italian Olympic team, coached the Stars.

Under new ownership (Randy Van Meter), the Stars pulled out of the CHL in 1982 and entered the old Atlantic Coast Hockey League (ACHL), playing teams geographically closer to Nashville. The Stars finished 11-43-4 and suffered through a season of low attendance. They began the following season, only to fold in December 1983.

Two Knoxville wrestling promoters, Bob Polk and Ron Fuller, rescued the sport five years later. They purchased an East Coast Hockey League franchise in January 1989. The Knights, with popular ex-South Stars player Archie Henderson as coach, attracted an astonishing 150,000 fans their first season (1989-90). While wearing red and blue uniforms adorned with the logo of a knight's mask, they made the playoffs but lost in the first round.

The Knights went through three ownership changes in their seven-year history. They twice went to the semifinals of the ECHL playoffs - in 1993 under ex-NHL standout and coach Nick Fotiu, and in 1995 under coach Mark Kumpel.

Perhaps the top Knights highlight came during the 1992-93 season when Trevor Jobe scored what is still a minor hockey league record 85 goals, with 76 assists, for 161 points and 12 hat tricks in his MVP season.

In the spring of 1996, after failed negotiations for a lease agreement with the Auditorium, the Knights departed to Pensacola, Fla. There, they were renamed the Ice Pilots.

Hockey was revived again with the arrival of the NightHawks in the fall of 1996. The Central Hockey League team only won 12 games, the worst in CHL history. The red-and-blue NightHawks' logo was a hawk showing its claws. Nashvillian Mike Friedman purchased the team in the summer of 1997. In a renewed salute to the old Dixie Flyers, Friedman changed both the name to the Ice Flyers and the colors to blue and gray. David Lohrie led the team to a 41-win season and a second-place finish in the CHL East and was named coach of the year. The team lost in the semi-finals to the eventual CHL Champ Columbus in April 1998. The impending arrival of the Predators led Friedman to move the franchise to Albany, Ga.

This closed the book on three separate chapters, a combined 21 years, of minor league hockey in Nashville, starting and ending with the team named the Flyers. Former Predators President Jack Diller is well aware and appreciative of Nashville's hockey pioneers. "The team and sport obviously made a significant impact on many people here in Middle Tennessee. Other teams such as the South Stars, Knights, NightHawks and Ice Flyers also enjoyed varying degrees of success - all of which helped fuel the excitement for the NHL and arrival of the Predators," Diller said.

Excerpted from Hockey in Nashville before the Predators, written by hockey historian Harold Huggins and originally printed in the Predators Press: Commemorative Issue, October 10, 1998.
